Volume XLI OMAHA UNIVERSITY No. 10
OMAHA, NEBRASKA, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1961

Pre-Registration Begins For Second Semester

The week of Dec. 4-8 is pre-registration for all students who wish to have a choice of hours for second semester. If students do not register next week, they will have to wait until Feb. 2, 1962, to schedule classes.

Registration materials may be picked up in the Registrar's Office in the Administration building.

The procedure for pre-registration includes the following steps:

1. Fill in personal information on registration card and class card envelope with ballpoint pen.
2. See your counselor in his office during the week of Dec. 4-8.
3. After students and their counselors have selected a schedule of classes, they are to fill in the back of the schedule card and the carbon copy form.
4. Registration cards and the carbon copies must be signed by counselors. Schedules of seniors and students with special problems must be approved by the dean of the students' college.
5. Pay the pre-registration

Forms Mailed for Senior Pictures

Seniors have been mailed forms to have their pictures taken for the 1962 Tomahawk yearbook.

Any one who has not received this form in the mail should come to the Student Publications Office Rm. 116AA and pick up a form.

Photos may be taken anytime from now until Jan. 18.

A last minute rush may be avoided by making an appointment now at Kilpatrick's Photo Reflex Studio.

Seniors who have any questions should contact Paul V. Peterson, Director of Student Publications, Rm. 130 AA.

fee of $10 in room 230.

6. Students then proceed to room 212 for their class cards.

7. Fees are then assessed.

8. Students, who are pre-registering, must pay tuition and fees by 3 p. m. Jan. 29, 1962, or their class cards will be returned to the file.

9. Present receipts for class cards.

If a student finds that he cannot return for second semester, he may apply for a return of the $10 pre-registration fee as late as Jan. 15, 1962. After this date, this fee will be forfeited.

The receipt for pre-registration fee is to be presented when tuition is paid. To avoid loss or receipt over the holidays the Registrar will staple it to the registration card.

If the receipt for this fee is lost, students may mail their request for a refund to the Registrar not later than Feb. 7. Refunds will be available after March 15, 1962.

Final Exams Are 7 Weeks Away

Final examinations will begin seven weeks from today on Jan. 19, 1962, and continue through Jan. 26.

The semester break is scheduled Jan. 29-Feb. 2, 1962; and students will begin second semester classes Feb. 5.

Professors must turn in grades by 5 p. m. on Jan. 31, and these semester reports will be mailed by the Registrars Office to students by Feb. 14.

Students are requested not to contact professors for grades or give them postcards on which to mail their grades.

Transcripts will be issued after grades are recorded and mailed.

Tuition Increase Proposed To Narrow OU Salary Gap

By Gail Grove

A plan is being studied to raise tuition at the University of Omaha beginning in September of 1962 to $1.50 over the present $7.50 fee.

This would mean a 15 hour load would cost $22.50 more a semester, or an increase of $1.25 a week, based on the 18-week semester.

President Milo Bail explained, "The increase is necessary to narrow the salary gap between Omaha U. professors and associate professors and those of other universities.

Dr. Bail continued that OU has to be competitive with other universities and business to continue to keep and attract excellent instructors.

The GATEWAY learned Thursday that the proposal will be presented to the Board of Regents Dec. 14.

The proposed increase would bring the University an additional $400,000, based on this year's enrollment.

Seventy-five per cent of the $400,000 would be designated to increase salaries. The remainder would be earmarked for maintenance and equipment. The salary increase would "average six per cent for University faculty and staff," Dr. Bail said.

Dr. Bail explained that the tuition increase is the first part of a two-part program designed to increase the University's revenue. The second part will be a request for a mill levy increase in 1963.

He pointed out, "The drive is for the student to pay his share in 1962, and the taxpayer in 1963."

The last tuition increase at OU was in 1959 when it was raised from six dollars to the present $7.50 per credit hour.

OU Coeds Vie for Title

One of nineteen girls will be named the 1962 Tomahawk Beauty Queen Dec. 6, in the Conference Center Auditorium. President Milo Bail will present the winner with a bouquet of roses.

Judging along with Constance Cowdery, Queen of Ak-Sar-Ben, will be Paul McGrath, administrative assistant of Leo A. Daly and Company. One other judge will be named.

Contestants are judged on face, form, poise and an interview.

Interviews Wednesday Morning

The interviews begin at 11 a. m. Wednesday. At 12:30 the faculty and student committees in charge of the contest will attend a luncheon. At 1:30 the contest will move to the Conference Center Auditorium.

The girls will appear in street dress and formals. Mike Landers, Lynn McCallum, Bruce Bressler and Jerry Gilmore will be their escorts. Pat Shields will be the announcer. Ernest Gorr will play the organ.

Five Finalists To Be Chosen

Five finalists will be chosen from the field of 19. The Queen and two runners-up will be chosen from these.

Paul V. Peterson, head of the Journalism Department; Elizabeth Hill, Dean of Women; Dr. Edwin Clark, speech department and Jane Andersen, art department, are on the faculty committee.

Karen Pope, Tomahawk editor and Kathy Wehry, second place winner last year, are on the student committee.

Rehearsal for the contest will be from 1:30 to 3:30 Tuesday afternoon.

Nineteen Coeds Participate

Official Notices

Any students interested in editing the University of Omaha Gateway second semester of 1961-62 must submit a written application by Dec. 8, stating their qualifications for the position, to Paul V. Peterson, Head of the Journalism Department, Room 130 in the Applied Arts Building.

Track Remodeled; Courts Considered

Dugdale Construction Company has begun reshaping Omaha University's track around the football field.

The track will be graded level and covered with a new coat of cinders.

The high jump will be moved to the south end of the football field and the broad jump pits on the west side will be enlarged with grass-tex runways.

Estimated cost of the improvements is around $5,000.

Clarence Lefler, head of Buildings and Grounds announced that further athletic facility improvement is in the planning stage.

He said the architect for OU is drawing up plans for two tennis courts which will be placed on the east side of the football field, if the project is carried out.

Lefler emphasized that the tennis courts are now only speculation, but that they could very well materialize "in the very near future."

No estimates have been placed on the cost of the tennis courts. They would become part of the facilities used by the athletic and physical education departments.

NOMA Sets Up $500 Loan Fund

A student loan fund in the amount of $500 has been established at the University of Omaha. The fund is being provided by the Omaha Chapter of the National Office Management Association.

Loans from this fund are for the exclusive use of students registered in the College of Business Administration. These students must be in good standing academically.

All applications for loans from the NOMA Student Loan Fund should be made to the Chairman of the Committee on Scholarships and Grants in the Dean of Students office.

A maximum loan per semester is $150. Recipients of loans may repay them at their convenience.

The purpose of the loan is to assist a fulltime student with financial aid.

'Grain of Sand' On Sale Today

The "Grain of Sand," a semi-annual publication of short stories, poems, essays and plays, will go on sale today for 45 cents.

The two short stories are "Granny" by Ned C. Nossaman and "The Ultimate Gift" by Judith A. Davis.

The ten poems are: "Adagio in Red and Black" and "The White Peacock" by Stephen Schicker; "Night Thoughts" by Ned C. Nossaman; "The Image" and "Portrait of a Lady" by Carol Blease; "Island of the Dead" by David Hoffman; "Letter to an Interventional God" by Steven Gould; "Mabel" by Sarah Milder; "The Savior" by John Webster, and "SMI" by Vernon E. Barnett.

"All Hall the New Imagists!" by Robert Austin; "The Final Half Hour" by Leigh Wilson; and "The Gene Eppley Hilton" by Donald Gappa are the three essays.

John Bryne is the author of the play "Dr. Nemissison and the Metacologists."

Head of the editorial board for the "Grain of Sand" is Jean Hornish. Editorial assistants are Stephen Schicker, Vernon E. Barnett, John Bryne and Ann Pence.

Educators to Hold Annual Meet Sat.

The annual meeting of the Nebraska Association of Colleges and Universities will be held Saturday at 9 a. m. in the Eppley Conference Center. A luncheon will be served in the Student Center at noon.

Dr. Paul W. Dieckman will preside over the morning session and F. Don Maclay, president of Norfolk Junior College, will preside over the afternoon session.

Officers of the Association are: president, F. Don Maclay; vice president, Dr. Paul W. Dieckman; secretary-treasurer, Dr. Barton L. Kline.

Orchesis members adding finishing touches to their act are Midge Butters, Nancy Norton, Shirley Johnson and Donna Filippowski. The curtain goes up on the second performance for this year's concert tonight at 8 o'clock.

'An Evening of Dance' to Be Orchesis Presentation Tonight

The University auditorium will be transformed into a world of make-believe at 8 tonight when the curtain rises on "An Evening of Dance."

This concert, presented by members of Orchesis, Omaha University dance honorary, features various types of dance forms.

The mood of the concert fluctuates from gaiety of solemnity.

The program opens with "Rhythm Road," a jazz number with a Latin American flavor. Included in the program will be with an all male cast; "Wrong Number" a dance of toys in a toy shop, "Danse Des Marionette Poupee"; an Irish folk dance; a lyrical ballet, and a dance pantomime, "Bus Stop."

"Dance at the Gym," from the Westside Story, featuring the whole troupe will conclude the program.

The concert will be presented again tomorrow night at 8 p. m.

The outstanding Orchesis member, selected by the entire troupe, will be announced at Saturday's performance.

Both shows will be presented free to students and the public.

Dean Curtis Siemers and Bill Grow admire one of the 55 Currier and Ives original prints now on display in the Student Center lounge. The collection belongs to the Library of Congress and is being shown as part of the Smithsonian Institute. The exhibit is sponsored by the CAE and will last until December 8.

Are Omaha U Political Groups Gone? OU Students Agree; Gals Using Intelligence

By Mike Dugan

What's happened to political organizations on campus?

This question arises from the apparent lack of political activities on the OU campus this fall.

In the past such movements were dynamic in their activities.

During the elections last year, the Young Republicans attracted such prominent figures as Terry Carpenter, Carl Curtis, Glenn Cunningham and John Cooper.

The Young Democrats sponsored such figures as Governor Morrison, Robert Kennedy and Robert Conrad.

These men were brought to this campus only through the efforts of functioning, chartered campus political organizations. No candidate for public office can appear before an audience on this campus without the invitation and sponsorship of such qualified movements.

At this time there is no Republican representation of any kind on campus.

Last year's Y. R. president Norman Leeper and many others who were active in this organization are no longer attending school here. The movement is dormant.

Why?

Although only two organizations have been mentioned, this is not the extent of the possibilities or opportunities for interested students to participate in political functions on campus.

Speaking forums have been organized to discuss current affairs, local problems, and campus activities. Here, the member has the opportunity to keep himself current in such issues and voice his opinion too.

Independent organizations may also invite speakers and candidates for public office to speak.

The Young Democrats are beginning to enlist members for their movement and there appears to be an interest in its development.

Chairman of the Y. D. movement, Marilyn Hendricks and several other active members are attempting to recruit members by scheduling meetings featuring guest speakers.

Marilyn said, "The turnout for these meetings have been rather disappointing, but we are moving ahead and hope to have a thriving organization by next semester."

Political organizations on campus provide an excellent training ground for future leadership in public affairs. The various activities and opportunities offered by such groups have been the stepping stones for many prominent figures in the political world today.

Several faculty members are anxious to provide any assistance and sponsorship sought by such groups.

William Utley, chairman of the political science department, said, "In order to create a more wholesome political situation, anyone interested in re-activating such a group should contact me."

He also pointed out that the Douglas County Republicans would like to see a student counterpart of their organization formed on campus.

A group of students will meet next Thursday in an attempt to revive the campus young Republican's club. Professor William Utley has agreed to sponsor the organization. All interested students are invited to attend the meeting at 3 p. m. in room 301 of the Student Center.

"Girls in College: They Have Scarcely Begun to Use Their Brains."

Here it is again, the latest installment of the "equality for women" issue which has been plaguing America since Florence Nightingale donned her uniform of mercy and Carrie Nation grabbed her axe.

This time the cry comes from Mary I. Bunting, president of Radcliffe College. The plea was put in such a way that Time Magazine was moved to carry three and one-half pages and a cover picture in its November 3 issue.

It is always bad form (and more psychology) for a writer to apologize for something he has written especially before he has written it. But this is the case. I apologize because I take exception to the views passed on in the article and I'm probably unqualified, as would any male be, to find fault with a women's spoken thoughts.

Especially a woman as remarkable as Mrs. Bunting who helped put a husband through college, raised four children and found time to become an expert in several branches of science; all during a period of American history when an intelligent woman was considered a crusader rather than a useful individual.

Mrs. Bunting's article stops me because it has a tremendous appeal to the common sense but fails to come up with any suggestions or conclusions. It could fire an impressionable young woman to want to improve the situation but offers no method of doing so.

This was evidenced when the "how do you feel about this" question was put to several Omaha University students, both male and female. The men were asked more out of pity than necessity since they're so seldom approached to give their opinions on this particular subject.

All agreed that, as it was put by Mrs. Bunting, women aren't exercising their fullest abilities since only six per cent of America's doctors and one per cent of all engineers are women. This contrasts with 75 per cent and 30 per cent, respectively, in Russia.

"But so what," asked one young lady. "We know that if we wanted to be in those professions we could do it with no interference."

"And if we had enough talent we'd be accepted in those professions," chimed in another.

"Obviously, women don't have the desire to enter these professions or they'd be doing it," pointed out a Bootstrapper.

Mrs. Bunting, in her article, doesn't insist on women choosing careers, she simply states that most women are dying to do something really meaningful.

"They (American women with college degrees are busy. They are exhausted. But they are not happy. They are not doing something important enough, engrossing enough, hard enough to make life worthwhile," she said.

If one were to work very hard at it, they couldn't be more vague than Mrs. Bunting was when she issued that statement.

More worthwhile than what? raising a family. Let's take a brief look at what the average woman takes on when she marries.

Children, like bad luck, seem to happen in threes. This alone, is a formidable task, most women seem to agree. But this is only a small portion of the job.

Next comes PTA, dinners for hubby's boss, the Women's League of Everything and several church committee posts. This is sandwiched in between cooking (an art not entirely lost by American women, judging from the ware served me by my own working spouse, and the mountain of food recipes printed in countless magazines every week).

Next, she must be able to find the best price on items needed to feed, cloth and comfort her family.

And don't rule out comfort. This is probably the most difficult thing asked of Mrs. America by her family. It involves the wisdom of the ancients and knowledge of the moderns.

"What could be more meaningful than this," all persons polled asked.

The article pointed out that no woman has been elected to the office of President of the U.S.

"Of course not," another OU coed pointed out. "Politicians make their heartiest pitch to women and I think they know if they ran a woman for the post she would be voted down by the women, not men."

The final consensus of opinion was that American college girls today can be what they want to in a society which they direct as much, if not more, than men.

"But the most important job most college women will face when they graduate will be raising a family in a time when your not even sure of a future for them. And it will take everything they have acquired in college—and more—to do a good job of it," the young lady said. Enough said.

OU Art Show At Crossroads

Like the speech department, the art department has been involved in several "productions" lately.

Paintings, watercolors, drawings and sculptures by Omaha University artists will be shown in the Crossroads' arcade Nov. 30, Dec. 1-2. The show is sponsored by the Art Club.

Anyone wishing to purchase a work is asked to contact instructor Peter Hill or the art department.

Over semester break members of the Art Club will go on an excursion to Chicago to tour museums and art shows.

Money for the scholarships, grants, and excursion was earned during an auction at the beginning of this year.

Angels Play Santa to Tots

There are only 25 days until Christmas and Santa Claus, played by the Marine Corps, is asking for toys to distribute to needy children in Omaha.

The drive on the Omaha University campus is sponsored by the Angels Flight and Arnold Air Society. Barrels have been placed in the halls and students are urged to bring used toys to fill them. Collection will continue through December 15.

The second annual Toys for Tots Dance, given by the Angels and AAS, will be held Saturday, December 9 in the Student Center Ballroom from 9 p. m. to 12 p. m. One new toy per couple is asked for admission. Casual dress will be worn for students wanting to come after the basketball game.

The Roy Anderson Combo will play for the all-school dance, and faculty and staff members are invited.

Bridge Battle Begins Dec. 11

Omaha Chapter of the American Contract Bridge Association will hold a rubber bridge tournament Dec. 11 thru Dec. 18. Registration for the event will be Dec. 7 at the information desk at the Student Union.

This tournament, the first in a series sponsored by the Omaha Chapter of the American Contract Bridge Association, will be operated similarly to last year's Birthday Party Tournament.

The winners will receive trophies. They will be eligible to represent the University in upcoming matches against other colleges.

John Aboud and Dave Smith are in charge of all arrangements. Pairing will be done and presented on Dec. 17.

Anyone wanting to hear more about the tournament or the organization are invited to the Dec. 5 meeting to be held in Room 301 of the Student Center at 2:30.

The club is planning a party. This will also be discussed at the meeting.

Up coming tournaments will be duplicate and will feature coveted master points.

Mortar Board Waakiya Meet

The Omaha Mortar Board Alumnae Chapter will hold a tea in conjunction with Waakiya, Omaha University's senior women's honorary Dec. 1 in the Student Center at 4 p. m.

The purpose of the meeting is to familiarize the local honorary with the activities of the national group.

Joan Mencke, president of the Waakiya group, will report on projects and plans of the local honorary.

Mrs. William E. Jaynes, president of the Alumnae group, will discuss the Alumnae's plans and tell about the activities of the Mortar Board chapters in other colleges.

Joyce Peterson is in charge of arrangements for the collegiate group. Mrs. Gerry Day is chairman for the Mortar Board Alumnae.

Choir, Singers Face Busy Month

The Omaha University Choir and Madrigal Singers will make 13 appearances this month.

The Madrigal Singers will give three performances: Dec. 5, at the Pi Beta Kappa Anniversary Dinner in the Student Center Cafeteria; Dec. 7, for the Faculty Wives in the Student Center, and Dec. 18, at the Deans' Tea.

The Singers are Barbara Frampton, Sandra Holben, Lynda Summers, Virginia Cameron, Joan Mencke, James Heard, Donald Farrar, Donald Chase and Richard Jordan.

The Choir's schedule will begin Dec. 8, when they record a program for WOW Radio. It will be broadcast the tenth at 2:30 p. m.

Their other appearances are Dec. 10, at the Dundee Presbyterian Church; Dec. 11, at the Omaha Home for Boys; Dec. 12, at the Student Center; Dec. 13, at St. Paul's Methodist Church; Dec. 14, at Augustana Lutheran Church; Dec. 19, at the President's Coffee Hour in the Conference Center, and Dec. 20, in the Administration Building Auditorium for the Christmas Convocation, at the Rotary Club's Annual Christmas Luncheon Meeting, and at Central Grade School.

Official Notice

All students who expect to graduate in January should contact the graduate office immediately.

Sig K's Will Name Typical Frat Man

The annual Sigma Kappa Violet Formal will be held in the Student Center ballroom December 8, 9-12 p. m.

A Typical Fraternity Man will be elected by the Greeks. Candidates are: Phil Fisher, Pi Kappa Alpha; Jerry Johnson, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Bill Campbell, Theta Chi; Ken Brink, Sigma Phi Epsilon; John Gaffney, Lambda Chi Alpha, and Sheldon Cohen, Alpha Epsilon Pi is an honorary candidate.

An open invitation to any Greeks from other campuses has also been extended.

Gateway Staff Expects College Visitors Today

The Collegian Staff, Hastings College journalism students, will visit the Omaha University campus Dec. 1. The group, under the sponsorship of Mr. Keith McMillan, will study layout procedures and paper planning.

They will attend the "blood bath" (the weekly critical review of the Gateway by faculty advisor Paul Peterson), tour the campus and take part in a workshop with editors of the Gateway.

School Rocks At Soph Hop

There will be twistin' and turnin' in the Student Center Ballroom tonight from 9 to 12 as Luther and the Night Riders "blast out" at the all-school dance.

The dance, sponsored by the Sophomore class, will follow the Roman Way with its theme "Saturnia. Saturnia was a Roman holiday.

During intermission a singing group named the Emanons will perform. There will also be a skit.

One activity ticket per person is required for admission.

Choir Needs Singers

Registration for an additional section of the Omaha University Choir is now open.

Membership in the oratorial choir is open to all students. Anyone interested in joining should contact John Miller, choir director, or their advisor.

Career Cues:

"This age of specialization opens special opportunities for the well-rounded man!"

Robert Saudek, President
Robert Saudek Associates, Inc.

"The more specialists society creates to cope with its complexities, the easier it can be for a non-specialist to achieve success.

If that seems paradoxical, look at it this way: the more men who go out for specific positions on the ball club, the more chance you have to wind up as manager!

Today's world—in government, business, the arts, even science—needs the well-rounded man. He's the man who can see the entire picture...the man who can draw on a broad background of knowledge, evaluate the problem, then assign the details to specialists.

The world of entertainment may seem somewhat special, but it's a case in point. These days, it demands more of its people than ever before. Today's musical comedy score is often as sophisticated as grand opera. Drama draws heavily on psychology and history. Television productions are concerned with nuclear science and political science. If you've ever watched 'Omnibus' you may have seen how our productions have run the gamut of a wide range of man's interests.

So I suggest to you that even though you may concentrate on one special field of interest, keep your viewpoint broad. Keep your college curriculum as diversified as possible. Attend lectures and concerts, the theatres and museums. Above all, read and read, and listen and listen! But pay scant heed to the oracle who says there's no route to the top but that of specialization. I don't believe it!"

Robert Saudek is the creator of many of television's most famous programs—including the award-winning "Omnibus" series. Former network executive and head of the TV-Radio Workshop of the Ford Foundation, Bob enjoys a "Camel break". He's been a Camel fan since undergraduate days at Harvard.

Cagers Open Against Peru

By Mike Moran

Coach Jim Borsheim and his Omaha University cagers move into the spotlight tomorrow night at 8 p. m. as the 1961-62 basketball season gets under way in the University Fieldhouse.

The Red and Black have a rugged assignment awaiting them in their debut in the form of the Peru State Bobcats, coached by Jack McIntire.

The Bobcats return eight lettermen and all five starters from the 1960-61 squad that captured the Nebraska College Conference crown and advanced to the second round of the NAIA championships in Kansas City before being eliminated by powerful Grambling College of Louisiana. The Bobcats compiled 17 wins and 7 losses.

Peru is led by its 6'8" senior center and all-NCC selections, Bob Buettgenbach and Mike Roach, a 5'10" senior guard.

Tall and Talented

The Bobcats are a tall and talented veteran outfit and definitely the team to beat in Nebraska college circles. This fact alone could give the Indians the incentive they need to begin a fine season.

On the Omaha University side of the picture, Coach Jim Borsheim's squad is not as tall, not as experienced and not as deep as are the Bobcats. In fact, the Indians won only three games last year and have only four lettermen returning. But where Peru must contend with overconfidence and senior problems, Omaha has only eagerness and underclassmen. They have nothing to lose and everything to gain.

Borsheim's practices have been spirited and full of an obvious desire to change the picture of the past few seasons. The players think they can win, and to a ballplayer and his coach, that is half the battle.

Asked to name a starting lineup, the Indian mentor declined to say which five he preferred but named nine boys as possibilities.

Likely Candidates

Lettermen Joe Neuberger, Wendell Wiksell, Dave Hagglund and Bruce Hunter along with sophomore Jerry Kamphuis and freshmen Bernie Miller, Bill King, Larry Villnow and Ken "Carrot" Connor are the likely candidates.

Neuberger is a three year letterman from Creighton Prep. Wiksell and Kamphuis were teammates on the fine Omaha South state championship club of a couple of years ago. Miller is a fine shooter from Ralston while King is the all-city sharpshooter from Tech High. Connor and the 6'6" Villnow were the backbone of the Omaha Benson quint that was rated number one in Nebraska high school circles in 1960-61.

Villnow is expected to carry much of the rebounding and scoring load for the smaller Indians, whose front line averages only 6'1" while Peru can field a three-some averaging over 6'6".

Four OU Students In Hockey Loop

The amateur Hockey League of Omaha will get into full swing on Tuesday, Dec. 12 at Ak-Sar-Ben Coliseum.

From the 116 skaters who made the try outs, four teams consisting of 15 players and a goalie each were chosen.

Four Omaha University students survived the tryouts. These four are Ken Sachsh, Gary Sindelar, Lee Noveski, and Doug Stone. A student of last year, Dale Swanson, is also on the roster.

The teams will be sponsored by Storz Brewery, Oriental Trading, Omaha Hockey Club.

Regularly scheduled games will begin on December 12.

Four Indians on CIC First Team

Central Intercollegiate Conference Champion Pittsburg State with seven representatives and Omaha University with four were the only two teams to place gridders on the CIC all-conference first team.

The Indians placed three men on the second team. Fullback Wayne Backes received honorable mention.

Those named to first team were guard Duane Salek, end Paul Blazeovich, halfbacks Louie Miloni and Roger Sayers.

Salek's selection gave him his second consecutive berth on the mythical squad. Miloni was a second team selection last year.

Guard Arch Ferguson and tackle Jack Peterson along with quarterback Carl Myers were named to the second team.

Sayers and Miloni led OU rushers with 9.7 and 5.7 yards-per-carry averages.

Blazeovich was the leading pass receiver on the club.

He and Salek have been named to captain the Indian grid squad next season.

The Indian gridders closed out their 1961 campaign with six wins and three losses, losing to Drake November 18.

This was the best an OU club had fared since 1956 when the mark was six wins, two losses and one tie.

Five Gridders on Wrestling Squad

Returning lettermen, transfers and impressive first year men should help Al Caniglia in his first year as wrestling coach.

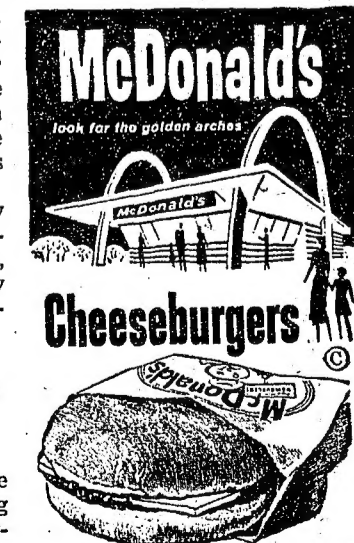

Caniglia will have some familiar faces on his squad with the football team turning out five grapplers. Louie Miloni at 145 is one returning letterman with a 7-0 record from last year. Heavyweight Art Ferguson had a 6-4-2 record. At 160, Jim Howard compiled a 5-4-2 record while teammate Mel Masek, 188, finished 1-4-2. Wayne Backes, who didn't receive a letter last season, won one and lost three.

George Crenshaw is the other letterman at 190 lbs.

The wrestlers will open December 8 against Graceland in Lamoni, Iowa, and open at home against State College of Iowa December 15. All home matches will start 8 p. m.

Other squad members:

Ron Anglim, Jack Benedict, Ken Netwig, John DeGeorge, Terry Maides, Ken Hargis, Pat Kelleher, Jim Cappellupo, Jeff Stievers, Bob Van Outrey and Jim Fuxa.

Three-Way Battle for First in Bowling; Basketball Ends Second Week of Play

Bowling

A three-way battle for the top spot is currently the hot topic in the intramural bowling.

Fiji, Lams and the Crew are setting the pace with four points being the only difference between first and third place.

Fiji took over the lead with 31 points to the Lams 29. The Crew, in third place, has 27 points.

The Lams behind Ken Socha garnered the top honors in Wednesday's league action at the West Lanes.

Socha had the individual game and series with a 227 and a 606 respectively.

The Lam's 780 team game and 2239 team series were also high for the afternoon.

Basketball

After two weeks of play five teams are undefeated with 2-0 records in the three intramural basketball leagues.

In League (1) Theta Chi and the Sig Eps are the undefeated teams. The Zeke Moe Joes also are undefeated after its only game.

The top teams in League (2) are the Eagles and the Lorpees. The Leeches and Untouchables are second also undefeated at 1-0.

The sole leader in League (3) is the Lit' Pikes with the Rinky Dinks and Delta Sigs second at 1-0.
